TAKIBI

This Portland restaurant combines all of our favorite things: camping, food, and cocktails. Located at Japanese outdoor brand Snow Peak's headquarters, the space is at the forefront of the glamping restaurant trend. takibipdx.com

THE SOCIAL HAUS

Head to the remote Montana wilderness to discover a surprising nine-course tasting menu where your amuse bouche might just be foie-gras-infused ice cream. Expect different dishes daily and ingredients foraged from the woods. thegreeno.com

RED DOG SALOON

Smack dab in the middle of the California desert's Pioneertown, the saloon serves up Western nostalgia and craft cocktails that are a big step up from a shot and a beer. Order a barrel-aged Negroni after exploring nearby Joshua Tree National Park, then rest your head at the neighboring Pioneertown Motel. pioneertown-motel.com

OASIS CABIN RESORT

This campground in central Oregon's River Country boasts 12 cabins, two vintage trailers, and a classic diner that serves as an homage to the property's former life as one of the state's oldest fishing camps. oasiscabinresort.com

SCP REDMOND

If rock climbing is your jam, then nearby Smith Rock State Park (and the rapidly growing city of Redmond) should pique your interest, as will the hotel's new plant-forward restaurant and tavern-style lobby bar. scphotel.com/redmond

WYLDER HOPE VALLEY

Yurts, cabins, and a Spartan trailer dot the Carson River at this Nordic-inspired camp where you'll find fly-fishing lessons in warmer months and snowshoe tours in winter. wylderhotels.com/hope-valley

You won't find any big-name hotel chains in Maupin; in their place, rather, are locally run outposts that cater to the active traveler with a down-home environment, a wide range of amenities, and easy access to the Deschutes River. You'll find plenty to enjoy around Maupin—even if you can't quite convince yourself it's not a mirage. 🤪

MAGICAL MURALS

LARGE, HAND-PAINTED MURALS have been popping up across Central Oregon in recent years, thanks to city code changes and eager local artists. The "Greetings From..." series on the Central Oregon Mural Trail by local artists Karen Eland and Katie Daisy draws inspiration from vintage postcards. At the La Pine Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Center, a bear, campfire and wildflowers give the mural a homey, rustic feel. Bright and lively with horses, butterflies and vibrant florals, the "Greetings From Sunriver" mural can be found behind the main lodge of Sunriver Resort seasonally. Other stops on the Central Oregon Mural Trail include the Oasis Cabin Resort in Maupin, an alley mural on SW Evergreen Avenue in Redmond and the Sisters mural at Barclay Bark. The newest additions from the artist duo can be found in on Fifth Street in Madras and in Bend's Old Mill District.

"OREGON IS MAGIC" | PRINEVILLE
A part of the Oregon Mural Trail, and the "Oregon is Magic" series, find this mural at Crooked Roots Brewing in Prineville. The illustration depicts someone lying on the lush grass, surrounded by wildflowers and staring up at the clouds.

"SHÚKWAT" AND "TA'AMINWA NAM AP'XTAT" | WARM SPRINGS
The "Shúkwat" mural by Jefferson Greene can be found on the Warm Springs Community Action Team building, depicting vibrant blues, an eagle and a horse. The "Ta'aminwa Nam Ap'xtat" mural by Winona Garrison is a scene of mountains and rivers with wildlife and imagery from Indigenous cultures.

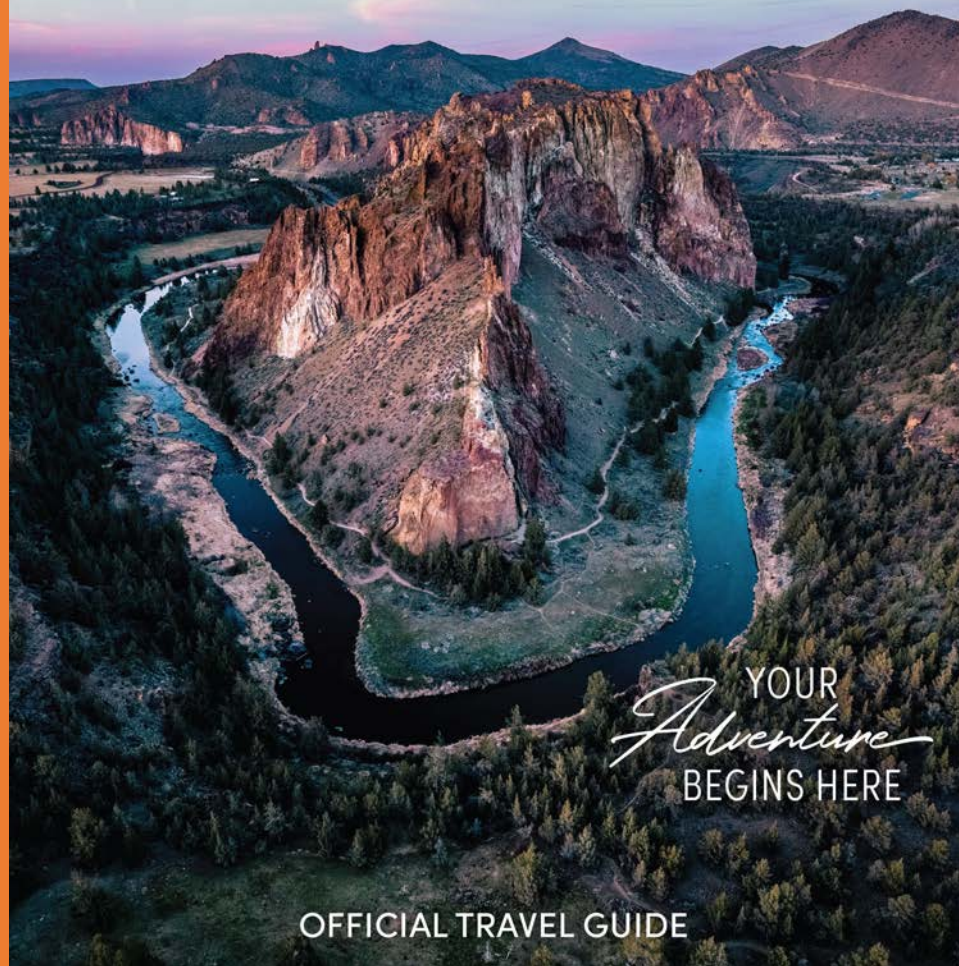

"SMB MIXTAPE" | BEND
On the brick wall of the alleyway at Silver Moon Brewing, artist Erik Hoogen painted 100 of the world's most influential musicians.

IN-TOWN VENUES OF CENTRAL OREGON

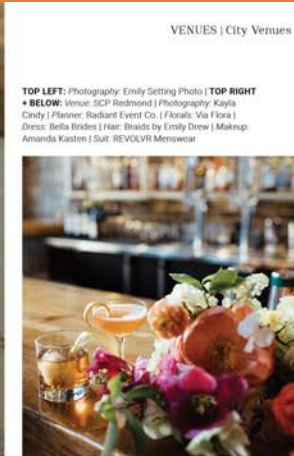

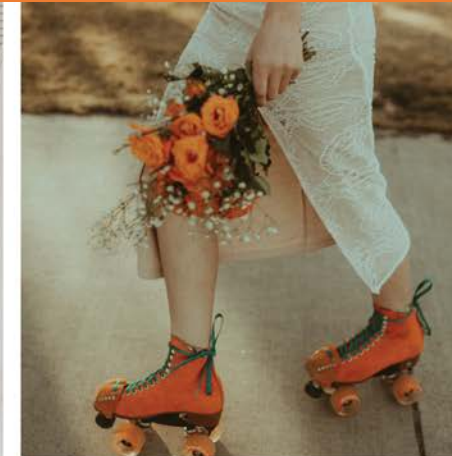

Cozy Convenience

An in-town wedding offers convenience for guests and vendors. McMenamans Old St. Francis School is a former Catholic elementary school turned hotel, restaurant and entertainment venue in downtown Bend. The Oxford Hotel a few blocks away offers a ballroom venue and all-inclusive packages. Celebrate Bend's craft brewery scene with a wedding or reception at 10 Barrel Brewing Co.'s east side location, with banquet space above the pub. Riverhouse on the Deschutes sits riverside in the heart of Bend with hotel lodging, making it a great venue for scenic photography while still in town. At Campfire Hotel in Bend, plan an intimate ceremony near the outdoor pool or firepit. In Redmond, plan a rooftop wedding at SCP Redmond Hotel, a renovated historic hotel downtown, or tie the knot at Grace and Hammer, a historic church turned pizza eatery.

Tour the Central Oregon Mural Trail

Stop #8 — La Pine

Head south from Sunriver to La Pine – the last stop on the trail, but ironically the first. La Pine was the first location on the trail to receive the vintage postcard-inspired ‘Greeting From...’ mural. The rustic town is the gateway to the Newberry Crater, and to glorious lakes with opportunities to kayak and paddleboard. The “Greetings From La Pine” mural shows a cozy, fireside camping night—a popular activity for the area—with a cabin on a peaceful lake; this is exactly what to expect when visiting. Before leaving La Pine, try a juice-packed hard cider at Legend Cider in the heart of town.

Stop #1 — Redmond Municipal Airport

Flying into town? Start your journey on the Central Oregon Mural Trail at the Redmond Municipal Airport. When waiting eagerly to begin your trip around the region, don't forget to check out the "Greetings From Central Oregon" mural located at the Visit Central Oregon visitor's desk at baggage claim, proudly displaying signature pine trees centered around a towering mountain scene: exactly what to expect from your trip here.

2522 Jesse Butler Cir, Redmond

Stop #6 — Bend

Drive to the heart of Central Oregon, the town of Bend, and find nothing but outdoor activities, amazing food and shopping galore. While strolling along the Deschutes River Trail in the Old Mill District, take a look at the series' newest mural, "Greetings From Bend." Like the Sisters mural, this piece of art also showcases the Cascade Range mountains, but from Bend's perspective. Stunning wildflowers, butterflies and grassy plains show all the opportunity for exploration there is in town—and just outside of town.
